

Municipalities Collecting Household Generated Used Oil

The following list of towns have notified NHDES that they accept household generated used oil from their residents. Towns are not required to collect used oil from residents and may change their collection policy at any time. Be sure to contact your town to make sure you are aware of its used oil collection policies. Towns that do not regularly collect used oil may do so during specially held household hazardous waste collection events. Contact your town or your area's regional planning commission to determine if used oil may be accepted during household hazardous waste collection events.
